Agate Gemstone Slabs

Material and Composition

- Primary Material: Natural agate, a microcrystalline quartz (chalcedony) known for distinct banding patterns.
- Composition: Individual, sliced agate pieces are hand-assembled and bonded using high-strength resin or epoxy onto a durable composite substrate.
- Backing Options: Available with standard opaque backing or translucent backing for backlit applications, which creates a luminous glow.

Texture and Finish

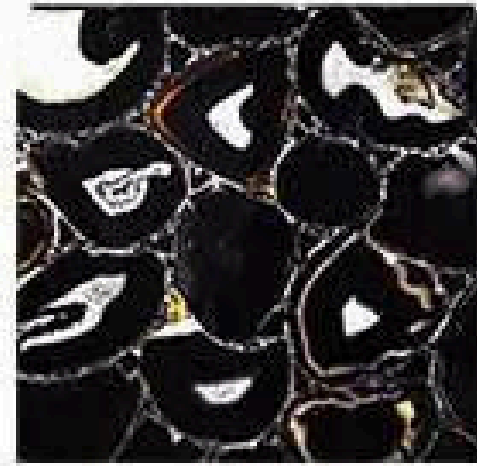

- Surface Finish: The slabs feature a highly polished, smooth, and glossy surface finish.
- Texture: The aesthetic texture is defined by unique, organic, and intricate natural patterns, bands, and color variations inherent to each individual gemstone slice. Every slab is unique.

Durability and Applications

- Durability: Agate is a tough and hard material, offering excellent resistance to scratches, heat, and stains

A Diverse Palette
